

Gustavo Corach

University of Buenos Aires, Argentina

gcorach2000@yahoo.com

Some Procrustes problems in Operator Theory

In statistics, a Procrustes problem is to minimize $\|AX - B\|$ where A, B are matrices, the minimum is taken over all isometries X and the norm is the Frobenius one. We show that a similar problem, with the operator norm, is related to some interesting problems in frame theory.